

DOCUMENTATION

ANNIE

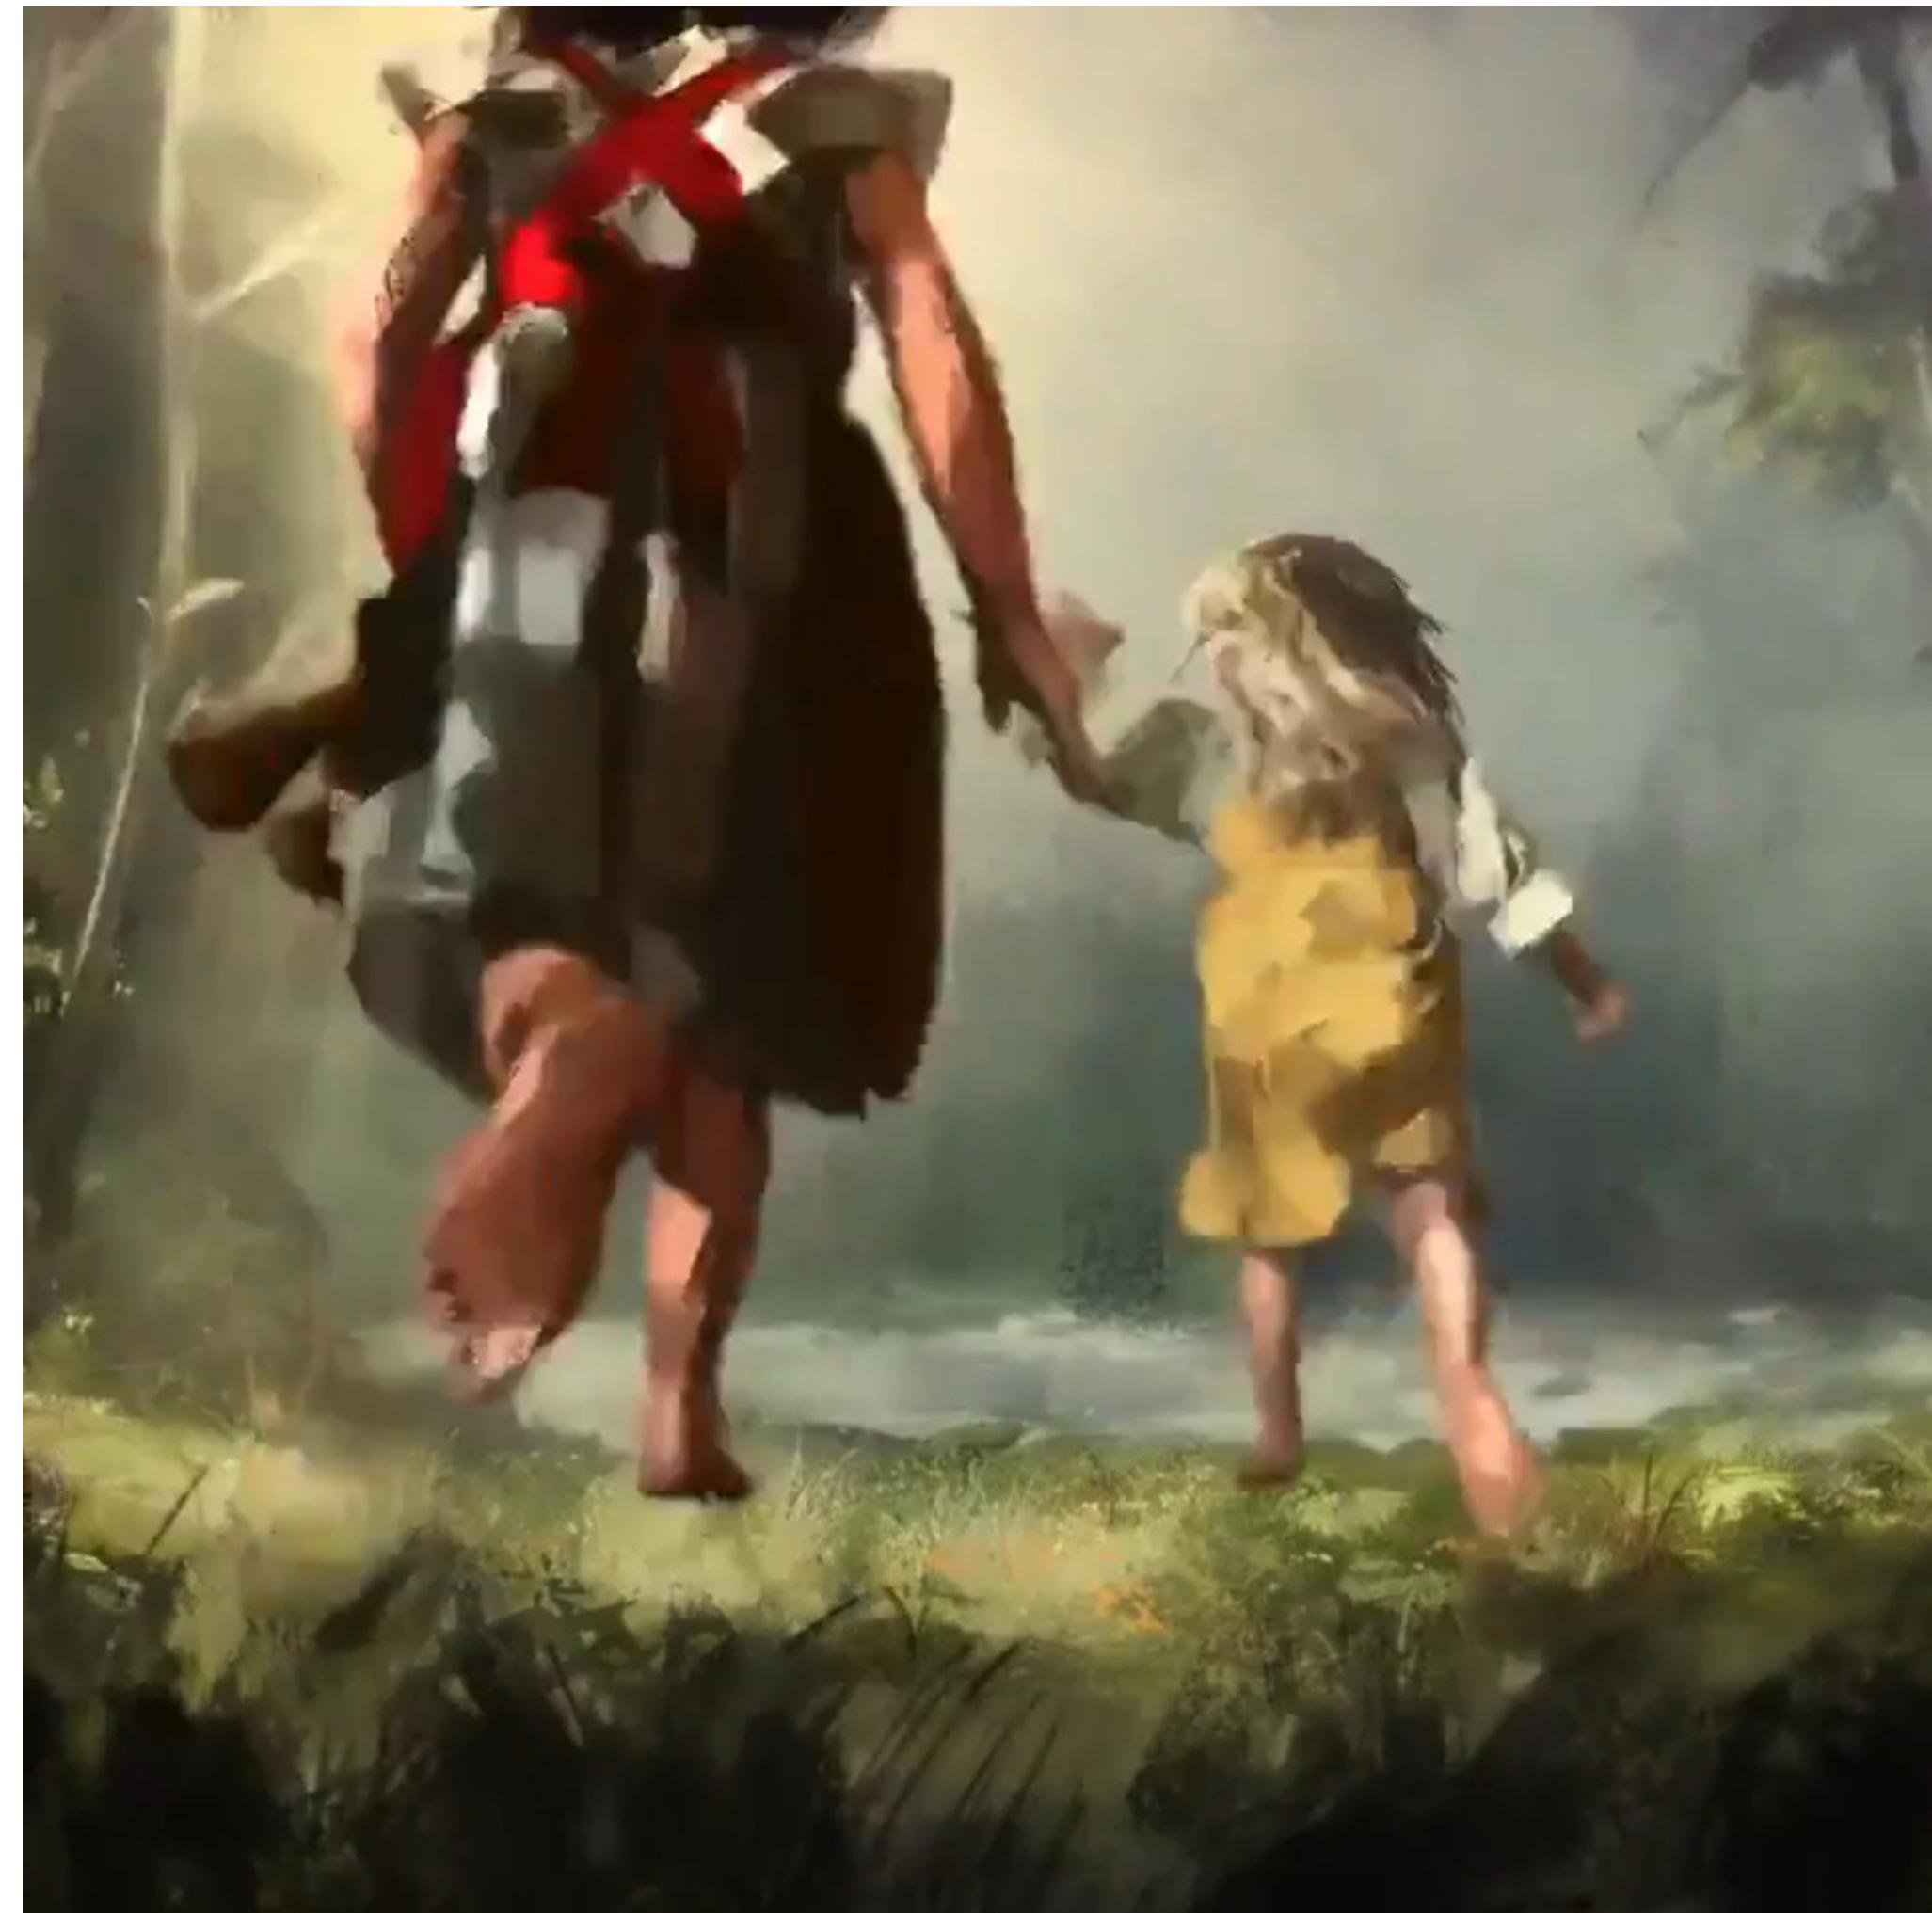

Why this story?

Tells a touching yet cruel story about a little girl's loss and the reason why she became who she is today. It conveys strong emotions along with a feeling of doom in the end. Just my taste.

I am going to divide Annie into emotional arcs of story telling rather than chapters.
Each traumatic experience will lead to the next scene, which will have a slightly different aesthetic from the last.
